

Supply Drive

Photos by Justin Falls / DN-R

ABOVE: Volunteers Olivia Shifflett (right) and Abbie Parkhurst carry bags of school supplies to the city and county school buses in the parking lot at the Walmart on John Wayland Highway during the first day of the Stuff the Bus campaign Friday. School supplies are being collected to help disadvantaged children all this weekend at the two area Walmarts and in Elkton. BELOW: The United Way's Beth Bland carries some of the donated school supplies onto one of two buses in the Walmart parking lot Friday. The United Way, in conjunction with several area radio and television stations and the Salvation Army, is hosting the drive, now in its sixth year.